

Nazi Pamphlets Collection
Manuscript Collection No. 33
.25 linear feet

Scope and Contents

This collection consists of 10 pamphlets published by the Nazis during the 1930s and several newspaper clippings from the same period. It was donated to the library by Dr. Mary Saleski, a member of the Modern Languages Department.

Historical Note

The common word "Nazi" is a contraction of the German word Nationalsozialismus, or National Socialism, a political movement that emerged after W.W.I. The party was founded in 1920 and led almost from the outset by Adolph Hitler. In 1933 the party gained control of the German state and established a dictatorship, embarking on a program of domestic reconstruction and foreign conquest that culminated in W.W.II. With Germany's defeat in 1945, National Socialism collapsed.

National Socialism was not grounded in a well-formulated ideology. Its underlying ideas included such abstruse and contradictory doctrines as the following: the Nordic master race was created to rule over inferior races, especially the Jews; there should be pan-German unification--that is, the gathering of all persons of German blood into a greater German Reich; the Führer (leader) is the mystical embodiment of the Third Reich; National Socialism supersedes Marxist international socialism; and the medieval corporatist society and a Germanic tribal society of peasants should serve as paradigms for the Third Reich.
